Hey, look us over!

Within these pages, we have provided a vision of Clay and its activities. Take a look at us in the classroom, extracurricular activities, and the community. We encountered many new teachers as we walked into class that first day, and a changed administration, under Mr. Phillip Ell and Mr. Robert Sikorski, guided us throughout the year. Many of us made the honor roll, and most of us did the best we could, but all of us gained valuable experience in the classroom.

Outside the classroom, we displayed our individuality by taking part in clubs and sports. We enjoyed Clay's traditions of Homecoming for Football and Basketball, the dances for Christmas, Sadie Hawkins, and the Prom. Whether we were a team member or a spectator, we enthusiastically supported football, basketball, wrestling, track, swimming, golf, and baseball.

Our world extended beyond our school; we actively were a part of the community. Some of us had part-time jobs at local businesses and all of us patronized them. After activities, we gathered at Burger Chef and before special events we went on a shopping spree. The community benefited from our car washes, bake sales, night classes, games, and other projects.

Hey, look us over in every part of our life at Clay and in the community. We are a student body consisting of young Americans striving to better ourselves and the world around us with school spirit beaming from all sides.

SPIRIT ROARS ON

You could feel the excitement throughout the school as both students and teachers whooped and hollered at pre-game pep sessions which continued on into the games. Posters smeared through halls continued to raise everyone's spirit. Spirit was highlighted during Spirit Week by the competition of homerooms to display their enthusiasm. The Spirit Jug played an important part in the pep sessions as each class battled to win it. However, the best part was having the wonderful satisfaction of being a Clayite.

Coach Jim Warren says to "go get 'em!"

Fan buses overflowing with spirited Clayites, leave for another exciting game.

Mr. John Stinson, Miss Eileen O'Brien, Mr. James Spears, and Mr. James Warren lead a pep session in their own unusual way.

The spirit in the stands at a Clay basketball game creates excitement all around.

FIRE UP, TEAM!

"Fire Up, Team!" was the theme of the 1968 Football Homecoming which sparked the spirit of the Clayites. The weekend festivities started Thursday night with the annual bonfire. As the different classes and clubs lined up to form the parade, the excitement mounted. The action-packed game was highlighted at half time by the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and her court. Enthusiasm was felt until the final whistle, as Clay went on to defeat Penn, 20-0. The victory dance climaxed a memorable Homecoming for the student body.

MR. IRRESISTIBLE REIGNS

Mr Irresistible, Kevin Cartwright, enjoys the traditional dance with Y-Teen President Judy Pillman.

Mr. Irresistible, Kevin Cartwright, was crowned by the president of the Y-Teens, Judy Pillman. As part of the annual tradition, each Y-Teen entered school Friday with the determination not to talk to any boys all day. The boys tried every way possible to get the girls to talk and give them a ticket, their goal being to get the most tickets and be crowned Mr. Irresistible. The boys succeeding in their goal were: Mr. Charming, Sam Vittorie; Mr. Personality, Scott Biesel; Mr. Handsome, Andy Replogle; Mr. Popular, Jeff Rinehart; Mr. Delightful, Dan Whitley; Mr. Darling, Gary Ladyga. Miss Gabby, who found it difficult not to talk, was Michelle Martin.

A crowning kiss is given by Kathy Granning to Mr. Popular, Jeff Rinehart.

Andy Replogle receives a kiss and a crown from Judy Granning.

HOLIDAY SWIRL

Couples dance to the soft music provided for the evening.

Mark Langel dances with his date, Paula Hunnicutt, for this very special dance.

Christmas cheer and sleigh bells brought couples to the annual Christmas Dance. The gym was decorated with snow flakes, Christmas trees, and holly to emphasize the traditional Frosted Fantasy theme. Couples socialized in the cafeteria while enjoying cookies and punch. Music provided by Bob Roberts Society Band enhanced the spirit of Christmas.

SPIRIT PREVAILS AT GAME

Spirit at its peak and competition between classes highlighted the second annual Basketball Homecoming. The Homecoming court consisted of five senior girls chosen by the class of 1969. The five senior members of the Basketball team crowned Debby Ake, Kathy Granning, Patty Kilian, Debby Rokely, and Dawn Seybold during the pep session. Debby Rokely was crowned queen during halftime at the game. The Homecoming festivities concluded with a dance at which the Brand X provided the music.

GALS CATCH FELLAS

Dancing dog-patch kids at the meetin' hall

Sunday go-meetin' attire for annual Sadie Hawkins.

Annual Sadie Hawkins Dance was held on March 30. All the dog-patch girls brought their runnin' shoes to catch themselves a man. After the chase, they gathered at the meetin' hall for a dance. It was decorated hillbilly style, with a pot-belly stove, clothes-line, and a still. Steph Stroud and Gary King were crowned Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner, while everyone danced to the music of the Cambridge Five.

Couples gather after long chase.

ORIENTAL SPRINGTIME

A picturesque garden surrounded by cherry blossoms, flowing streams, rickshaws, and lanterns, set the theme for the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom—ORIENTAL SPRINGTIME. Bob Roberts' Society Band provided soft music for the evening. The gigantic gong sounded the crowning of the queen and king: Cheri Wilson and Mike Borkowski. Members of the court were: Dianne Dimich and Bob Wyllie; Sue Davis and Jon Moffett; Sue Keeler and Chuck Schoffner; Barb Hicks and Tom Leonakis; and Masi Ikuma and Diane Hickerman. To complete the evening, after-prom activities were enjoyed at Newman Center. Everyone will remember this wonderful evening for years to come.

The garden helps to set the oriental atmosphere.

Judy Pillman, Jean Watkins, Sharon Webber, Doug Lindborg, Pete Harriman, Tom Russo, Sue Carl work hard to make the prom a success.

¡BIEN VENIDO!

Danilo Moya-Aguilera

Dan shows members of his new American family, Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis, his possessions from Chile.

Again this year the A.F.S. Committee worked hard to bring a foreign exchange student to Clay. After the review of foster-parent applications, the Gene Curtis family was chosen as the American home for Dan Moya of Chile. Dan was interested in learning the history and customs of the American people and he did this while enrolled as a senior in U.S. history, sociology, English III, and speech.

Along with other foreign exchange students, Dan attends a banquet in their behalf.

Dan enjoys studying the unusual customs of America.

The telephone comes in handy as Dan discusses plans with local AFS friends.

WELCOME TO CLAY

This year the Clay High School student body welcomed Mr. Phillip Ell as its new principal and Mr. Robert Sikorski as assistant principal. Before coming to Clay, Mr. Ell was assistant principal at Jackson High School for three years. Throughout the year, Mr. Ell worked with the students and faculty in striving to make Clay a better school. Mr. Sikorski was previously the head of the Business Department at Riley High School. His assistance in disciplining students at Clay promoted a healthy atmosphere within the school.

The secretarial staff was composed of Mrs. Frances Lein, personal secretary to Mr. Ell; Mrs. Cleo Eisbrenner, financial secretary; Mrs. Doris Stuban, attendance secretary to Mr. Sikorski; and Mrs. Mary Thomas, guidance secretary.

GUIDANCE LEADS THE WAY

Miss Patricia Rhodes—Head Counselor

Mr. Robert Turnock—Counselor

Mr. James Reinebold—Counselor

Activities of the Guidance Department were basically personal and academic counseling. Counselors scheduled college, university, trade school, and business representatives to give students a broader understanding of their desired careers. The guidance conference room was opened for use as a library containing further educational references, school catalogues, occupational information, film strips and records, and military service information. Monday night counseling gave students and parents an opportunity to discuss problems and ask questions concerning guidance. The department sponsored various standardized tests, including PSAT, College Board Examinations, the Betty Crocker Test and the National Merit Scholarship Examination.

Mr. Edward Hanyzewski—Study Hall Supervisor

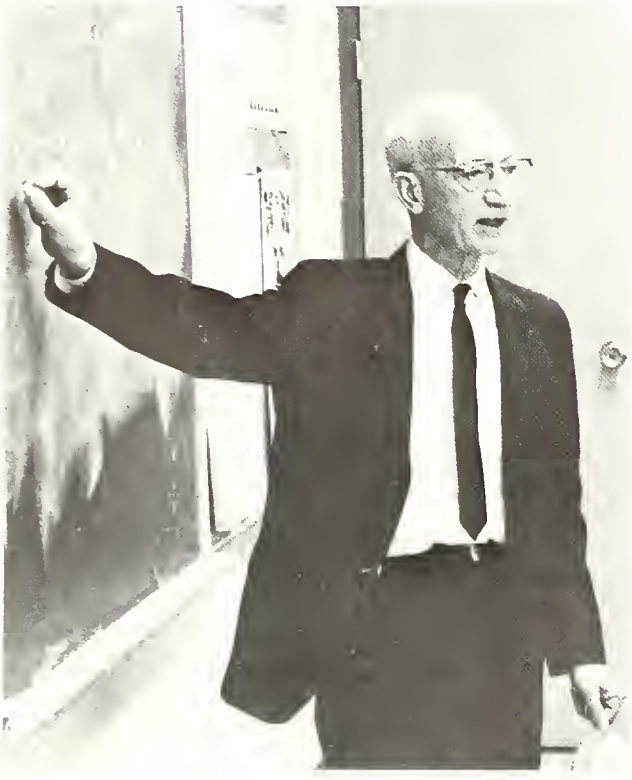
Mrs. Helen Manuszak —School Nurse

OFFER SPECIAL SERVICES

Mr. Bliss Butts—Librarian

Mrs. Roselyn Cole—Speech Therapist

ENGLISH: BASIS FOR STUDY



Mr. John Mouros – English I.

Miss Alice Collins—English I, Spanish I

Miss Ruth Yeager – English II, III, Speech

Mrs. Monika Breed– English II, III

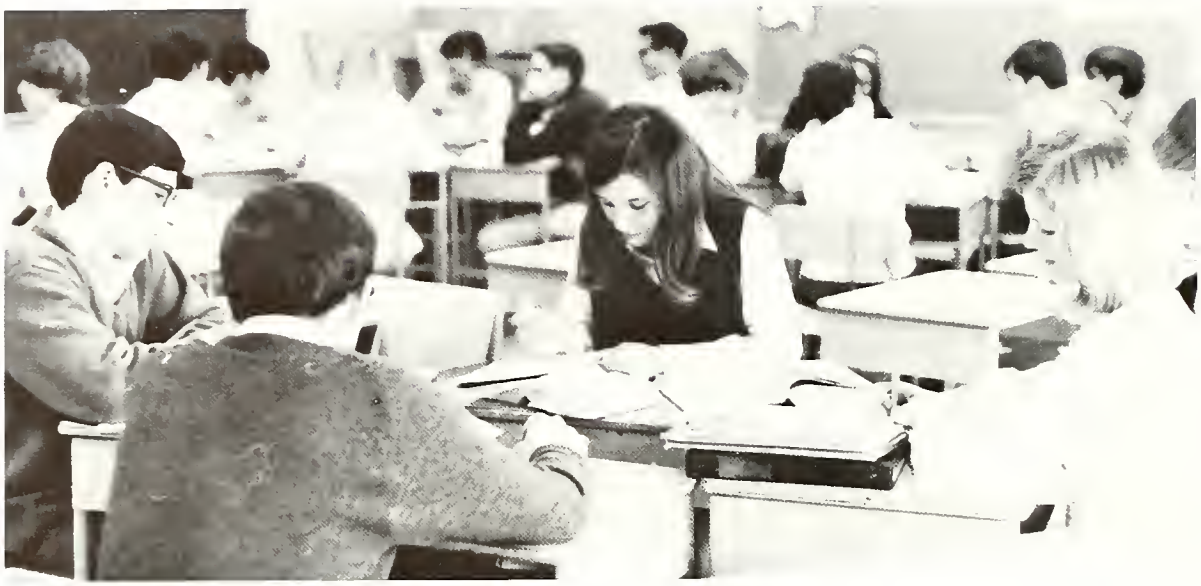
Mr David Matson English IV

Mr Ralph Radecki— English I, Latin II

Mr. Frederick Dreves— English I, III

Miss Eileen O'Brien— English II, Journalism

Despie Fausch and Kathy Robbins enjoy their English I class.



Jim Ferro, Steve Nemeth, Sandy Patty, and Cheryl Hollenbach study for English exams.

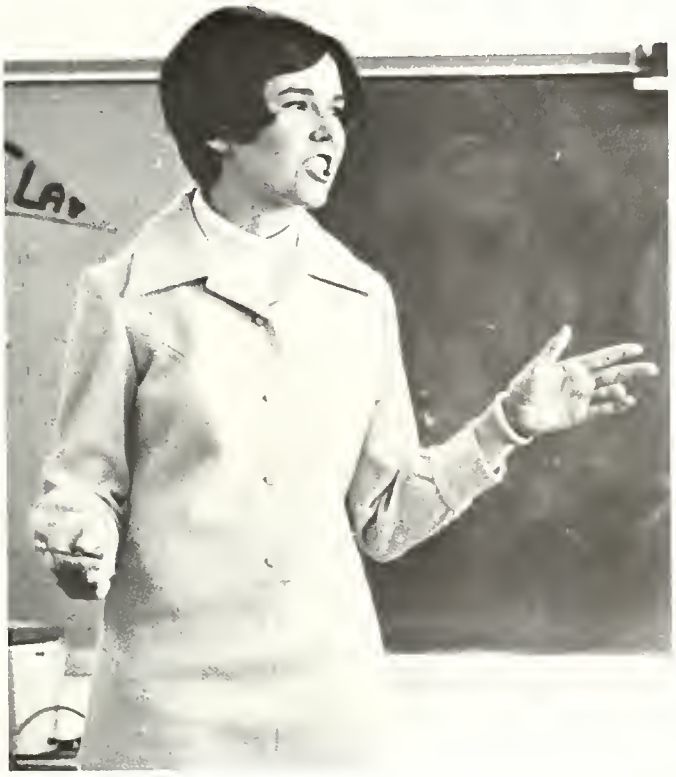
Along with the required three years of English, many students chose to include the fourth year and electives such as speech, drama, and journalism in their schedule. The English Department is the largest department of Clay, both in number of teachers and number of students served. A new program will make it possible in coming years for good senior students, competent in other areas but weak in writing, to concentrate on preparation for college composition.

Mrs. Sandra Rowe – English II, III

Mr. Robert Krause– English III, IV

Mrs. Maryland Lipscomb—English II, III

LANGUAGES ARE EXPANDED



Mrs. Mary Cook— French I, German I

Mrs. Elizabeth Elmer—Spanish I, II, III

Clay's Foreign Language Department consisted of French, German, Spanish, and Latin. To expand the study of foreign languages, a fourth year of French, German, and Spanish was added to the curriculum. Once again, first and second year Latin was offered to interested students.

Mrs. Jessie Schille—French II, III, IV

Mr. Charles Reavis—German I, II, III, IV

HISTORY ADDS NEGRO UNIT

Members of the Contemporary Society class explored all facets of the present world situation with speakers ranging from a member of the Communist party to the most conservative Protestant church. Through the use of short readings, the World History program allowed the students to inductively form hypotheses and substantiate them as historians are required to do. One of the most vital programs of the school year was the introduction of a more fully developed Negro History unit into the U.S. History courses. All freshmen were required to take Introduction to Social Studies which prepared them for forthcoming history courses.

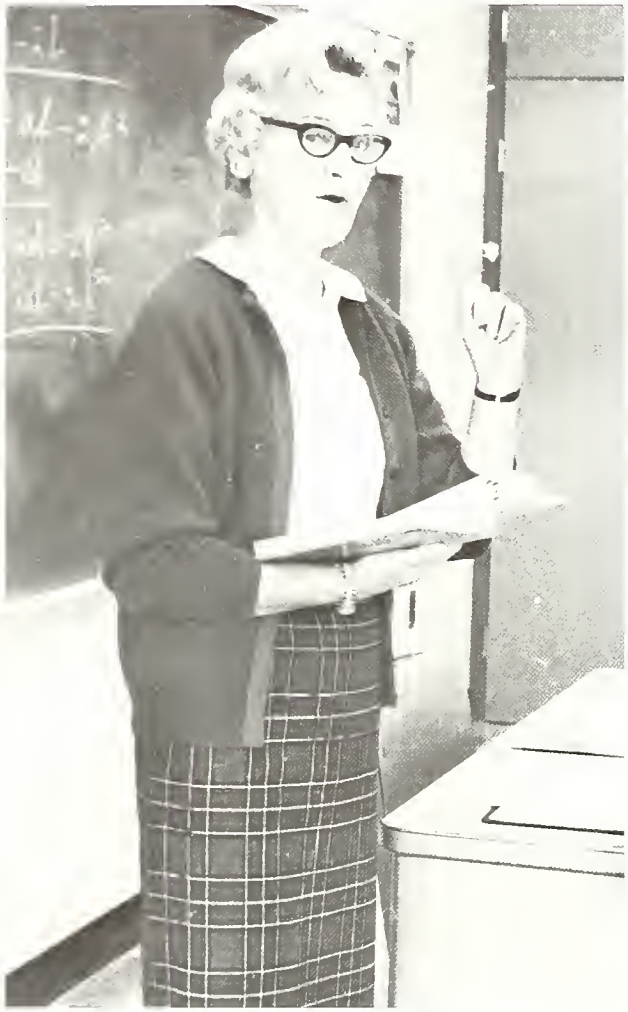
STRENGTH IN NUMBERS



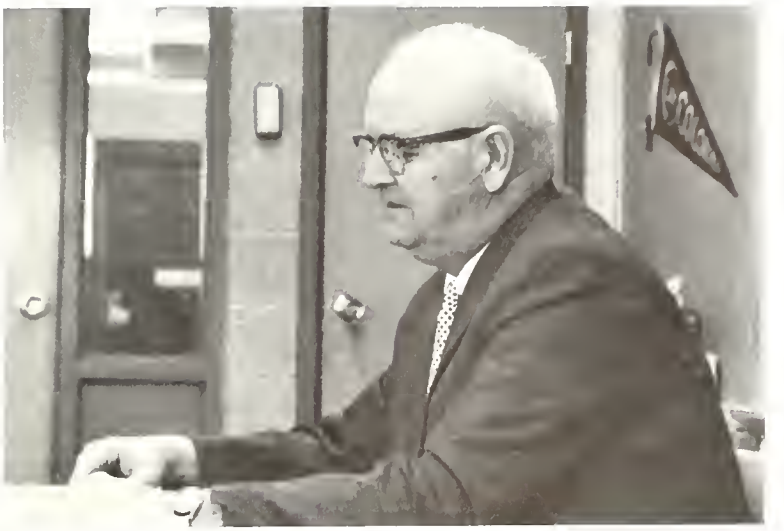
Mrs. Muriel Goheen—Algebra I, Business Mathematics

Mrs. Sallie Cheston—Algebra I, College Algebra-Analytics, High School Arithmetic II

Mrs. Frances Seward—Algebra I, Algebra II-Trigonometry, Geometry, High School Arithmetic I

Larry Emrick assists Kathy Fraider in solving a difficult algebra problem.

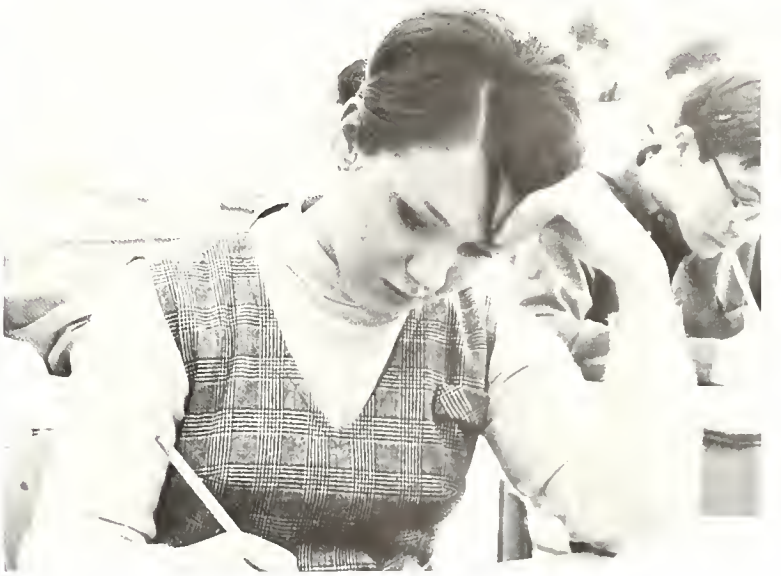
Mr. Andrew Dunn—High School Arithmetic I, II, Geometry



Mr. Virtus Felton—Elementary Algebra; Geometry, Trade Mathematics, Physical Science

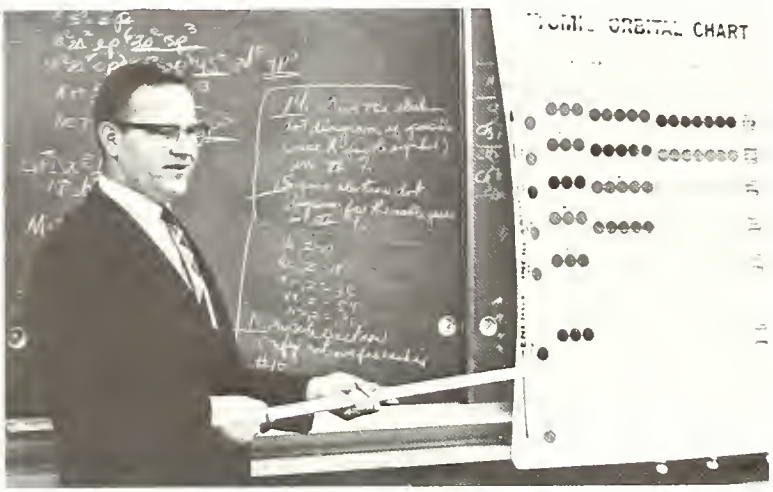
For the first time at Clay, the Mathematics Department offered courses in Trade Mathematics and Business Arithmetic. Arithmetic II was presented for a second year because students who took the course showed significant improvement in standardized tests. Honors classes for students in all four grades became another new and important part of the mathematics program.

Mr. Mark Brumbaugh—High School Arithmetic I; Algebra II-Trigonometry, College Algebra-Analytics.



Kathy DeVoe completes an algebra assignment.

SCIENCE AIDS RESEARCH



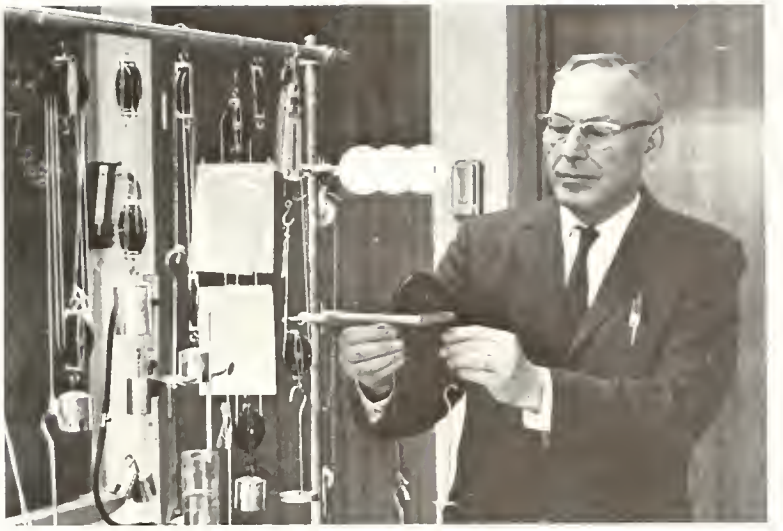
Mr. Norris Lockman—Biology I, Chemistry I, II

Right: Mr. Galon Miller—Biology I

Plans of the Science Department included the successful completion of the geodesic dome and experimentation with weather projects. Several new cultures of organisms were developed in a section of the tunnels which has been equipped for laboratory purposes. All students were encouraged to begin and complete individual research projects, and an improved biophysical program was stressed for those students not majoring in science.

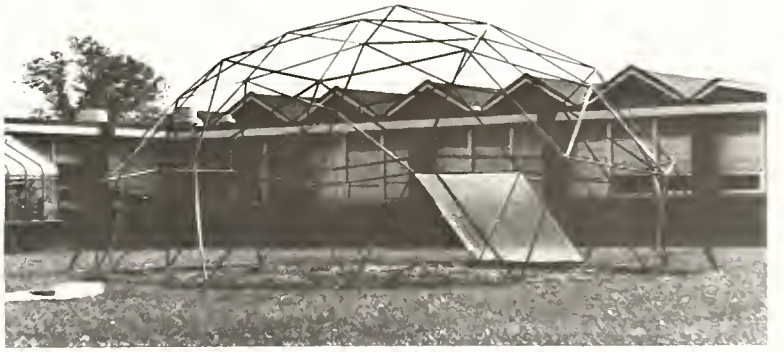
Biology students listen and take notes during one of many lectures.

Mr. Lawrence Remble—Biology I, Physical Science



Mr. Howard Smith—Physics, Physical Science

Mr. Lloyd Johnson—Biology II, III



The framework of the dome is ready to be covered with plastic.

Brenda Milliken and Becky Carpenter examine the results of their experiment.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

Mrs. Virginia Kraus—Shorthand II, Office Training II

Mr. Dan Dimich—Introduction to Business; Typing; Office Training I

Mr. David Gleason—Typing, Business Relations; Health

Mr. Dennis Bodle—Industrial Cooperative Training

Mr. Thomas Saunders—Typing; Introduction to Business

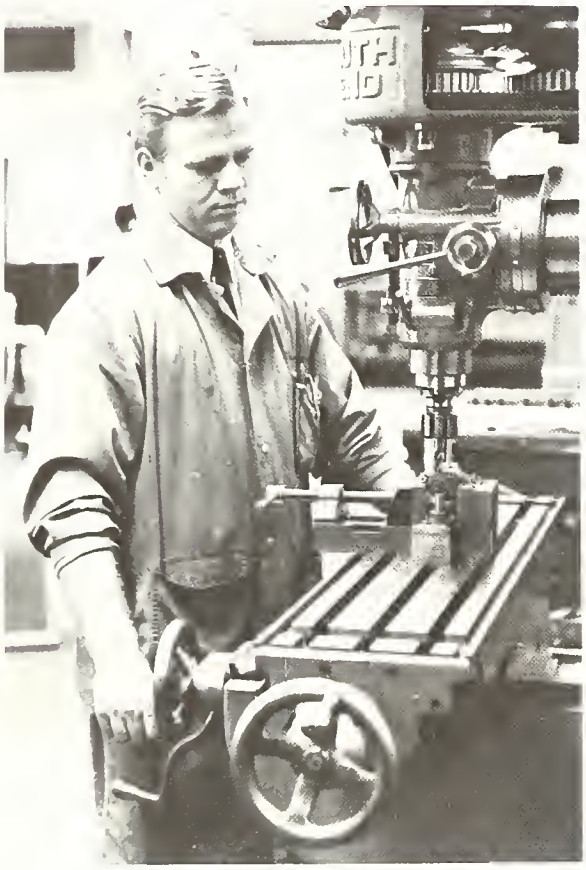
Mrs. Geraldine Walters—Notehand-Personal Typing, Bookkeeping, English II

Mrs. Mary Lou Brewer—Shorthand I; Office Training I

Industry looked to the Business Department for students who were well equipped in business principles. Skills in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping were helpful to students who entered the business world. The college-bound student who could not fit all of these subjects into his schedule took the combined course of notehand and personal typing. General courses in Business served as an introduction to the business world. On-the-job office experience and related classroom instruction was provided by C.O.E. while I.C.T. provided instruction for those who filled trade occupations.

Bookkeeping students attempt to get their trial balances in balance.

VOCATIONS ARE ENCOURAGED



Mr. George Friedman—Machine Processing I, II, Drafting II, III, IV

Mr. Jack Lowe—Drafting I, II

Machine Processing and Drafting were the only courses offered in the Industrial Arts Department this year. Facilities were also provided for instruction in machine, auto, and electrical shops; however, no additional teachers were available. The plan of instruction in these courses was based on a combination of lectures and practical application. Students in the drafting courses were introduced to the basic industrial practice of developing and recording ideas by the use of graphics or drafting. Further studies in the areas of basic sketching, blueprint reading, and orthographic and pictoral projection provided students with industrial knowledge helpful in future occupations.

Drafting II student, Cheryl Kinzie, constructs geometrical figures from paper.

Mrs. Lois Olson—Family Living; Clothing I, II, III, IV

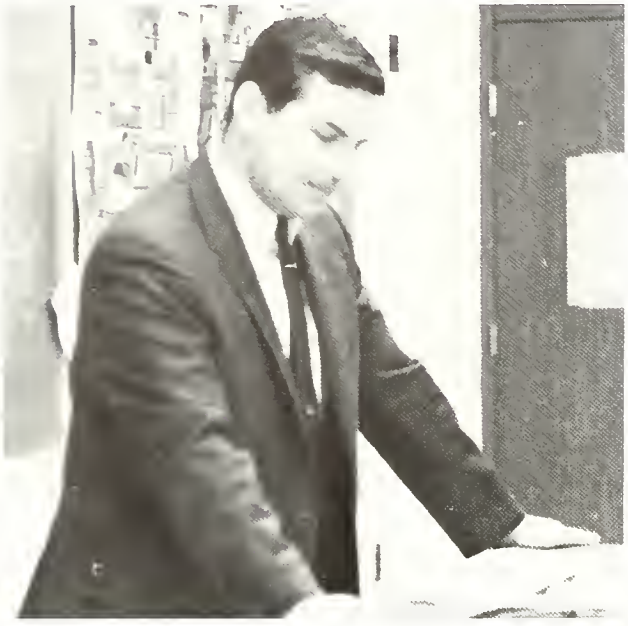
The basic goal of the Home Economics Department this year was to help students plan and prepare for the future. This was accomplished by training students to make wise decisions in meal management, housing, clothing, personal-family relationships, and child rearing. Knowledge from the fields of science, art, psychology, and sociology provided the basis for this training while lab experiences, demonstrations, speakers, individual and group projects, and a wide variety of audio-visual resources served as aids in accomplishing these goals.

HOME EC MOLDS THE FUTURE

Mary Fox, a fourth-year clothing student, makes an addition to her wardrobe.

Mrs. Carolyn Shidaker—Foods I, II

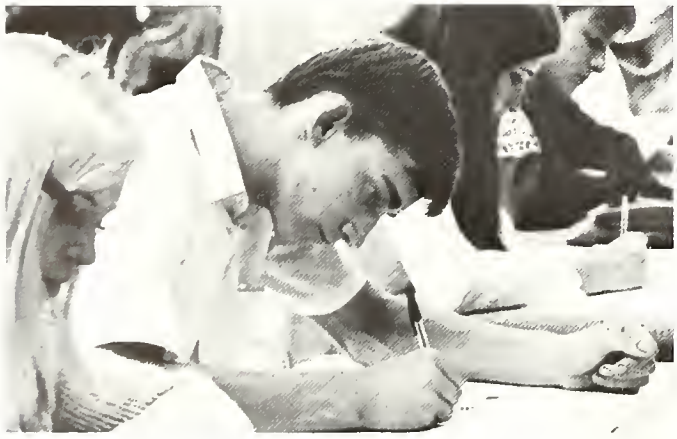
ARTISTS DISPLAY TALENT



Mr. Raymond Stafford - Basic Art; Drawing & Graphics; Commercial Art, Creative Crafts & Ceramic Sculpture

Mrs. Bonnie Brueseke—Basic Art; Painting

A doubled enrollment in Art classes demanded a broader art curriculum. Courses offered in the field of art were Basic Art, Painting, Creative Crafts & Ceramic Sculpture, Drawing & Graphics, and Commercial Art. By taking courses in Art, students learned to develop their natural talents and to express themselves creatively.



Carl Kocsis endeavors an intricate art design.

Nancy Churchia demonstrates her creativity through sculpture.

MUSIC DEPT. ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Dorothy Powers—Chorus; Glee Club; Music Appreciation

Kathy Modlin, Jackie Schreiner, Marty Bollinger, and Sandy Sacco practice for the Christmas concert.

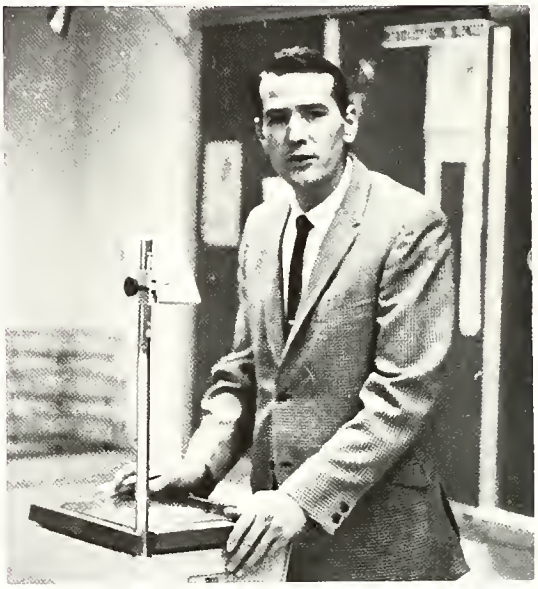
Band, orchestra, and chorus composed the Music Department. As well as adding spirit to football and basketball games, the band provided entertainment at concerts which were presented throughout the year in cooperation with the orchestra and chorus. All three branches of the department participated in city and state music contests and in the Valley of Vision High School Music Festival held at Notre Dame.

Mrs. Artheda Spencer—Orchestra

Mr. Richard Lovin— Band

DEVELOPING MIND AND BODY

Both the Health and the Physical Education Departments established programs to help students develop mentally, physically, socially, and emotionally. Emphasis was placed on healthy emotional development through student discussion of problems that teens encounter during the process of growing up. The annual trip to Beatty Memorial Hospital gave students a better understanding of mental health. Participation in gym class activities, such as football, soccer, tumbling, and basketball, provided students with an opportunity for physical development.



Mr. Jim Warren—Health

Mr. Thomas King—Boys' Physical Education

Mr. Ray Emrick—Health

Miss Joan Mitchell—Girls' Physical Education

Fourth Row: Phil Rarick, Treas.; Tom Fischer, Margi Wolfson, Becky Carpenter, Dennis Niedosik, Paige Patty, Mr. John Stinson, Sponsor.

Student Council, made up of representatives from each class and officers elected by the student body, provided a place for bringing up suggestions and for helping with student problems. Directed by Mr. John Stinson, they sponsored the annual Football Homecoming and the Christmas Dance. In the spring, members held an Easter Party for the retarded children in the community and also sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Also planned was the Student Council Exchange Day.

Sharon Webber shows her spirit by painting signs for Homecoming.

Signs of purple and gold decorated the lockers and walls as members of the School Spirit Club displayed their support of the athletic teams. Through the organization and presentation of pep sessions, enthusiasm and pride for Clay was created among the student body. The cost for project materials was covered through the sale of spirit buttons and the sponsorship of the second annual Basketball Homecoming, the highlight of their services.

IDEAS CREATE A BOOK

Underclass staff members: Libby Lutes, Mary Walters, Betty Muellner, Harold Ryan, Pat McFaul, Carol Clawson, Sue Schmank, Diane Richey

Yearbook work was never done. Planning began the previous spring, as pictures were taken of events which occurred after the last book was completed. In the fall enthusiastic editors returned from the I.U. Journalism Workshop with plans for the advertising campaign, subscription sales, cover design, and layouts. Staffers, who received additional training from workshops at Valparaiso, Notre Dame, and DeGroff's, worked under pressure to get pictures, captions, copy, and heads.

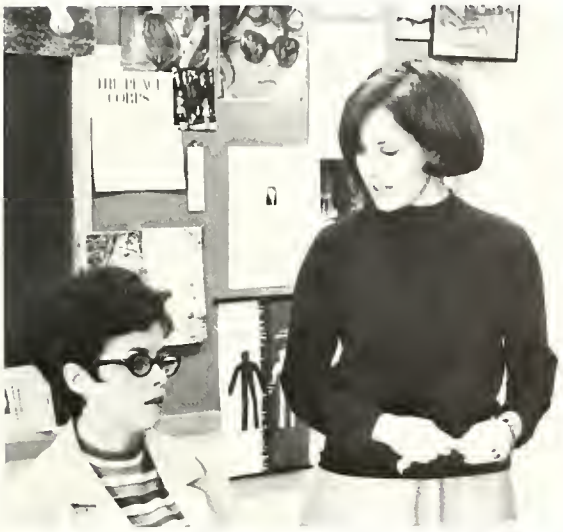
Dennis Gillen, photographer; Mrs. Geraldine Walters, advisor.

Co-Editors: Kathi Harrell, Debbie Ake.

COLONIAL WINS AWARD



Sue Hare, Editor-In-Chief, confers with Miss Eileen O'Brien, Advisor, on a publication problem.

Under the supervision of Miss Eileen O'Brien, and senior Sue Hare as editor, publication of the Colonial was biweekly this year. The staff sponsored the student directory, baseball special, and Christmas special. The publication won the Quill and Scroll international second place award for distinctive achievement in high school journalism. A talented crop of freshman and sophomore staffers will be prepared to carry on the tradition of the Clay newspaper.

Judy Granning, Social Chairman, looks over the plans for the 1969 Summer Conference.

Activities for Y-Teens got off to an exciting start with the annual Mr. Irresistible day and dance in October. Service projects for special occasions followed. Members made Halloween favors for children in Memorial Hospital, prepared food baskets for families in the community, and distributed Valentine and Easter baskets to Children's Hospital and Healthwin, served coffee and doughnuts for teachers, replaced the office Christmas tree and ornaments, and donated to the band uniform fund and AFS.

Delegates represented the club at the Bethel Conference of Christians and Jews in October, at the YWCA Inner-Club Council, at the midwinter Conference at Gary, and at Summer Conference at Syracuse. Judy Granning, social chairman and 1968 Summer Conference delegate, was chosen as one of the eight Y-Teens in the state to meet at Indianapolis in January to prepare the program for the 1969 Summer Conference.

Y-Teens, the largest club in school with over one hundred members, is supported by dances, the annual candy sales, and with dues which are divided between the local club and the YMCA.

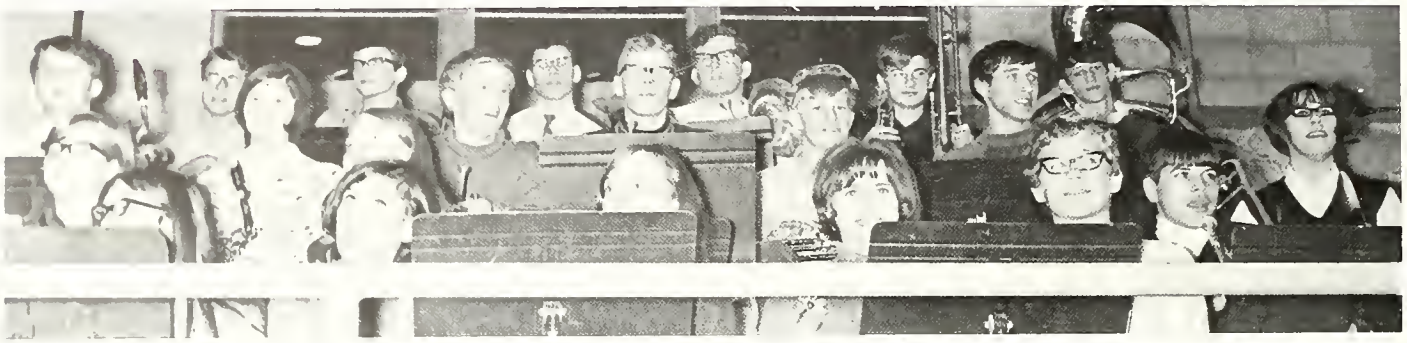
Under the direction of Mr. Richard Lovin, the Clay High School Band added to the spirit of all football games during halftime. The Pep Band played at all pep sessions and at the games. Members also participated in a band contest and many of them were involved in the annual Solo and Ensemble Contest. Several fine concerts were given throughout the year and the band marched in the Memorial Day Parade in South Bend. Magazine subscriptions and fruit cakes were sold to raise money for new uniforms in order to add more color and excitement to the band's appearance.

Drum major, Robbie Bogue, and assistant, Larry Curtis.

BAND HELPS ROUSE SPIRIT



Members of the Pep Band show their enthusiasm at a home basketball game.

Some members of the band formed two groups, Pep Band and Dance Band. The first played at the pep sessions and games, while Clayites kept to their beat with a cheer. The latter, a more formal group, entertained at school and community functions.

Tuning up for the school song.

Though small in number, the orchestra enjoyed presenting concerts to the student body. United with the orchestras from many high schools in South Bend, the group participated in the concert at the opening of the Athletic and Convocation Center at Notre Dame. The strings accompanied the Glee Club in several choruses from Handel's Messiah at the Christmas concert. The band and orchestra joined forces, along with the junior high and elementary students in the Clay area, to present the festival in the spring. All members of this group participated in the annual district solo and ensemble contest.

Becky Montgomery concentrates on a difficult passage.

Kris Kuespert practices her part in the ensemble.

Debbie Hood rehearses for a future concert

CHORUS ADDS FIFTH GROUP

A fifth group, the Girls' Glee Club, was added to the four vocal groups already established at Clay for the 68–69 school year. The highlight of the year was the Valley of Vision Music Festival presented opening night at the new Notre Dame Convocation Center. The Bernstein "Chichester Psalms" were presented on this occasion. All the Glee Clubs were combined at Christmas to present a program for the public and student body which included Handel's "Messiah." The annual "Pop" Concert featuring the Swing Choir was presented in March and Dubois' "Seven Last Words of Christ" was repeated in April due to the fine reception the public gave the 67–68 presentation of this work. May brought together the entire Music Department for the annual Spring Festival at which Senior members were presented awards. Baccalaureate and Commencement music was performed to make occasions more meaningful to Clay's graduating students.

MEMBERS SELL THEIR WORK

Under the direction of Mr. Raymond Stafford, the Art Club met every other Thursday to organize new programs for the Art Club. They planned the annual Clay High School Art Show at which the members and students enrolled in art classes were allowed to sell their own works. One of the main goals of the Art Club this year was to promote the study and appreciation of art. The members also did poster work for other organizations for a small fee and used the profits to purchase art supplies for the club.

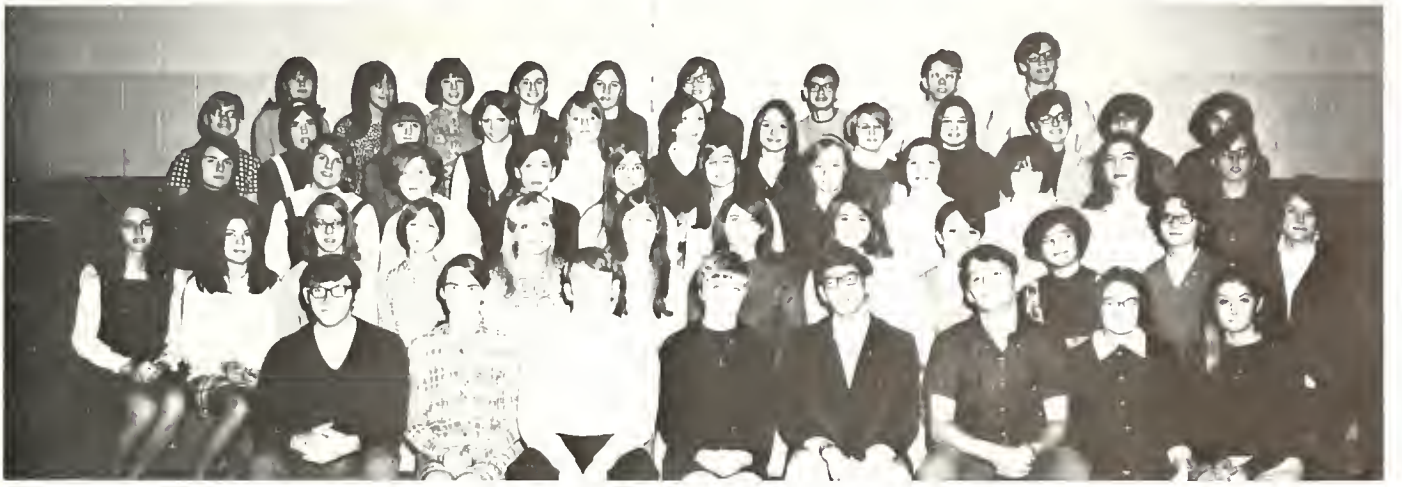
Candy Stripers were organized as a school club this year with thirty-five members. Under the direction of Miss Ruth Yeager, their main purpose was to volunteer work at Healthwin Hospital. Each girl received a pin for every fifty hours of work and a cap after two hundred hours. Their main activities were to entertain patients and have parties at the hospital. They also assisted the TB League by selling Christmas seals at school.

With a new sponsor, Mr. Ralph Radecki, the Latin Club planned a trip to the Latin Club State Convention at Bloomington and to the Latin Club National Convention at New Orleans. They held a Roman banquet in the spring. These activities boosted academic interest.

COMEDY AND DRAMA STAGED



First Row: Jeff Williams, Stage; Becki Moffett, Art; Dennis Duncan, Props; Debbie Nicks, Make-up; Lynn Lee, Lights; Steve Deranek, Publicity and Treas.; Norma Scanlon, Costumes and Vice Pres.; Pam Harris, Business and Sec. Second Row: Chris Frisz, Denise Webb, Judy Baran, Kathy Orsund, Mickie Hess, Alice Pawlik, Kathy Morningstar. Third Row: Johnneen Rogers, Sue Hummer, Daphne Rudhman, Patricia Liggett, Debbie Boyer, Donna Kopke, Jacki Miller. Fourth Row: Jenny Call, Brenda Bentley, Kathy Borkowski, Marie Stroup, Cindy Hoy, Debbie Hood, Sherry Bays.

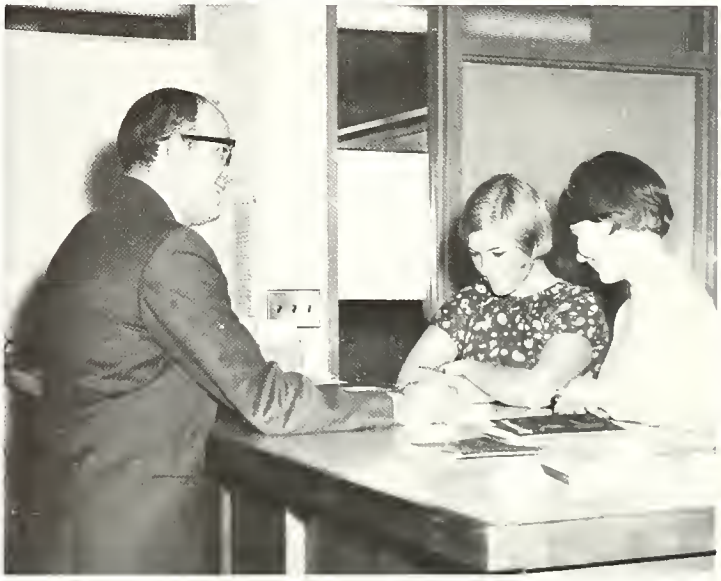
Activities of the future teachers included serving at the PTA open house as guides and planning the annual breakfast for the teachers. Also, during National Education Week, a party was held for Dan Moya, Clay's foreign exchange student. The Future Teachers of America Club is a national pre-professional organization of high school age youths who are interested in teaching. It gives them an opportunity to decide if the teaching profession is the correct choice.



Alane Bender, President, and Kathy Orsund discuss the possibilities of different colleges with Mr. Robert Turnock, Counselor.

A.F.S. WELCOMES DAN MOYA

Helping to make the year more profitable for Dan Moya, Clay's foreign exchange student from Santiago, Chile, was the main goal of the Foreign Exchange Committee. Dan spent the year with Larry Curtis and his family. Under the leadership of Mrs. Lois Olson, the committee was delegated as the official hosts for Ivan and Martina Sterzl, Clay's students from Czechoslovakia who lived at University Village while their father worked at Notre Dame. Other activities included planning the annual Talent Show and the traditional A.F.S. Week. The steering committee officers were assisted by the following class representatives: Walt Wagner and David Sanford, freshmen; Sue Kapusta and Sue Wever, sophomores; Alice Pawlik and Ronald Wagner, juniors; Cynthia Collmer and Patsy Clark, seniors.

Activities of the Botanical and Biological Club included bake sales, car washes, and a science fair. With Mr. Lloyd Johnson and Mr. Galon Miller as co-sponsors, the club worked at a dog show in November and held several seminars which were open to the public. Experimental operations were performed on rabbits at several of the meetings. A field trip to Culver, Indiana, to visit a mink farm, was one of the high points of the year.

Bob Whitmer, acting as surgeon, with Jackie Paege as his assistant, performs an experimental operation on a rabbit.

USHERS MAINTAIN ORDER

Members of the Ushers Club served the school at athletic contests and other school functions. They assisted the faculty by taking tickets and distributing programs; they directed people to their seats, and kept people off the floor at basketball games. They sold soft drinks at the games to help pay for the Ushers' sweaters and jackets. In recognition of their faithful service, ushers were awarded a new jacket in the school colors.

Head Usher Jim Woodbridge and Larry Miller sell refreshments to a thirsty crowd at the Clay vs. Niles basketball game.

Ron Wagner and Jim Woodbridge discuss the problems of controlling excited fans.

When a boy won a varsity award, the coach presented him a Clay sweater, thus making him a letterman. The requirements for this honorable feat depended on the sport in which the athlete participated. These athletes were not only interested in the sport in which they lettered, but others and displayed their spirit at various athletic functions. To raise money for the Clay's Booster Club, the lettermen sold raffle tickets.

College-bound students benefited from the trip to a college's Mathematics Department. Math Club members also toured computer centers in the area. Subscriptions to the Mathematics Journal provided further study of this subject which interested them. The group and their sponsor, Mrs. Frances Seward, had fun while working with number magic and other fields of math such as non-euclidean geometry.

GIRLS JOIN IN SPORTS

Arousing the student body's interest in wrestling was most important to the Matmaids. The girls attended the meets and while they cheered the team on, they also did jobs such as time keeping, collecting and selling tickets, and keeping score.

Each winter brings girls together to practice volleyball each Monday after school. They practiced volleying, serving, and spiking. In March, they entered a tournament involving local schools.

The first girls' swim team was coached by Miss Marie Kruckel. Regular practices were held every Monday and Thursday at the Natatorium until the LaSalle pool was available.

Work in the school offices was lessened this year by students who gave of their time to help out. Typing, assisting students, and taking telephone calls were among the many jobs of the fourteen girls who gave up their study hall to help with the efficient operation of office duties. Working with Mrs. Stuban, the attendance girls picked up the attendance sheets each hour and recorded absences. Under the direction of Mr. Butts, workers in the library checked out books for students and shelved returned books. Five girls and one boy gave up their free time to assist the nurse with her job of keeping Clay students healthy. Girls also gave up their study hall to assist the Guidance Department where they typed, ran errands, answered the telephone, and did some secretarial work.

Varsity football coach Jack Lowe in his second season at Clay, guided the Colonials through a rough schedule to a record of 4 wins, 4 losses, and a tie. Rebounding from the disaster of the previous year, the team fought to 3rd place in the Northern Indiana Valley Conference. One of the highlights of the season was the 13-6 victory over S.B. Adams; it was the first time Clay had won in the history of the series. Senior Tri-Captains Chris Rice, Larry Cripe, and Dick Berning, along with junior Jay Parker, were selected for the N.I.V.C. All-Conference team. Chris was named the Most Valuable Lineman in the league and All-Area Center. With 15 returning lettermen next year, the Colonials will have the experience to improve their football status in the area.

A good start is helpful to a fast time.

Clay's 1968 Cross Country squad, under the leadership of Coach Jim Warren, completed its season with a record of 9 wins, 5 losses in dual meet competition. The team with only two seniors, but bolstered by a good crop of underclassmen, secured third place in the Northern Indiana Valley Conference with a mark of 3 wins, 2 losses. In the S. B. City meet, the Harriers placed 3rd, along with a 5th place finish in the sectional. The highlight of the season came in the final dual meet, when three Clay runners, Larry Miller, Wayne Wisler, and Martin Tyl, surpassed the old school record of 10 minutes, 3 seconds. With six lettermen returning next year, hopes are high that the N.I.V.C. Cross Country title will again return to Clay.

GRAPPLERS TIE FOR FIRST

Varsity wrestlers: Rich Berning, Joe Haney, Larry Cripe, Dick Arndt, Bob Critchlow, Sandy Marks, Phil Rarick, Sam Graber, Earl Hackley, Larry Staner, Jerry Parker.

Varsity wrestlers, under the auspices of coaches Charles Martin and David Gleason, tied for first place at the N.I.V.C. meet to cap a successful season. The team finished with a record of five wins and five losses in dual meet competition. In the conference meet, juniors Sam Graber and Larry Staner won individual championships. Seniors Larry Cripe and Rich Berning also won titles. It was the second year in succession that the team won a share of the championship.

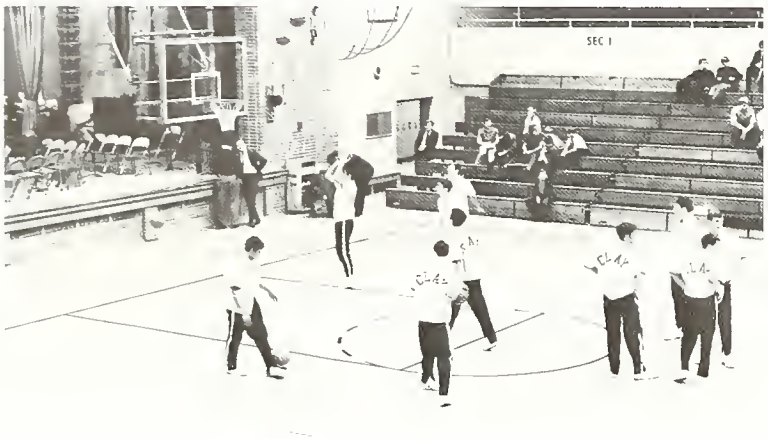
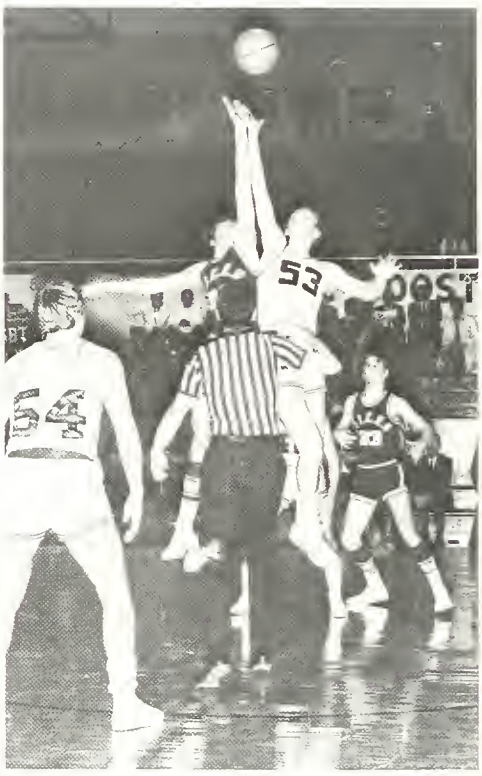
DEDICATION PAYS OFF



The Colonials get a few shots in during their pre-game drills.



Senior Doug Lindborg wins the tip against Riley.

Clay's Bill Beelaert pulls down another rebound as Jay Parker looks on.

As we looked back at Clay's 1968–69 Basketball season, it is obvious that this was a year for gaining experience for the following years. At the end of the team's 20-game schedule, our Cagers had won only 5 while losing 15. But they played some very good games against some fine competition. Muncie South came to town ranked 10th in the state and barely left with a victory as the Colonials fought the Rebels, and almost pulled a major upset. Clay's victory over S. B. Riley must also be considered an outstanding effort. Competing in the N. I. V. C., the Colonials took the cellar with 0 wins and 5 losses. In the Cager's first sectional game they were defeated by LaSalle. With much practice and this year's acquired experience, the Colonials should be able to improve next year's record.

CHEERLEADERS RAISE MORALE

An anxious Patty Kilian awaits the result of Colonial action.

Our cheerleaders are in a pensive moment during the St. Joe game.

Senior Stephanie Stroud hopes for the best as the Colonials fight for valuable yardage.

Junior Becky Lubben rallies Colonial cheers at a pep assembly.

Senior Gail Huckins urges Colonial support.

Captain Debby Rokely casts the team an inspiring glance between cheers.

Miss Mitchell, cheerleading sponsor, seems pleased with the outcome of a skit.

Among the girls at Clay some of the liveliest were found on the cheerleading squad. These girls led the student body with cheers supporting the athletic teams throughout the year. With Miss Mitchell as their sponsor, they worked at car washes along with the Spirit Committee to buy new letters and name bars for their sweaters.

TANKERS MAKE WAVES

This year's swimming team, in its second year as an organized varsity sport, finished the season with a record of 0 wins and 6 losses in dual meet competition. The team, coached by Len Deranek, practiced at the Adams High School pool. In the sectional the tankers failed to score any points or qualify any individuals for the regional meet. The squad's success was not shown in their record, but in the fact that, throughout the year, times improved steadily and valuable experience was acquired.

SENIOR ATHLETES EXCEL

Basketball awards were presented to Wayne Wisler for his sportsmanship, and Doug Lindborg for being the most valuable member of the team.

In football, Chris Rice earned the Most Valuable player award, while Dick Berning was cited for sportsmanship.

Awards in Varsity Cross Country were bestowed to Wayne Wisler as the Most Valuable Harrier, and Bob Olah for his sportsmanship.

In wrestling, the team voted the Most Valuable award to Larry Cripe, and Dick Berning won the sportsmanship trophy. Swimmer Tom Schalliol proved to be the Most Valuable member of the team, and Steve Hulecki was chosen for the sportsmanship award.

CINDERMEN ON THE RUN

Vince Carroll takes the lead on the final lap.

Clay's 1969 track team, coached by Mr. George Friedman, competed with schools in the area and other N. I. V. C. teams. As the snows of winter disappeared in March, the squad took to the track at the Junior High in order to train for their first meet. The team, dominated by upperclassmen, hoped to compete well and they worked hard all season toward their goal of acquiring their first N. I. V. C. track championship.

WINNING TRADITION PREVAILS

Clay's winning tradition in baseball continued on its course as the 1968 Clay Colonials finished with a 22–9 record and captured its second straight regional title. This was a feat which only three other teams accomplished in Indiana last year. Piloted by Coach Jim Reinebold, the team established school history as the winningest team ever to hit Clay High School. Coach Reinebold has had a coaching record which consists of 228 wins against 74 losses. The diamond men worked hard in preparation for the rugged season. Fourteen players spent part of their summer at baseball school in Missouri. A newly formed summer team, the Clay Angels, won the city F. O. P. summer league. The regular season started with the annual Clay-sponsored baseball clinic, followed by the spring trip to Kentucky. With six returning lettermen, the Colonials had high hopes for capturing the state baseball title.

Jay Parker takes a healthy swing.

Scott Mitchell awaits the pitch.

John Niedosik receives the catcher's signal.

Bob Schell exhibits his bunting skill.

Pitcher Pat Hernicz takes the sign from the catcher.

Senior Ron Koepsel strides into the opponent's oncoming pitch.

At first base, Randy DeHaven prepares for the next play.

Jubilant Colonials congratulate their teammate after another run crosses the plate.

GOLF SWINGS INTO ACTION

Senior David Fodness keeps his eyes on the ball as he swings his club.

As the warmer temperatures of spring rolled in, Clay High's golfers headed for the Erskine Golf Course. There was enough interest in golf in 1968 to organize the first team in several years. Under the coaching of Mr. Ray Emrick, the team practiced everyday after school. The N.I.V.C. has organized competition between schools and at the end of the year there will be a trophy for the conference champion.

Pat Heiden studies the green before he attempts the difficult putt.

To seek a newer world was the objective of the Class of 1969. As exemplified in their song, "You'll Never Walk Alone," the seniors unified as one, strove for higher intellectual, spiritual, and social goals by means of classes, extra-curricular activities, and family and community life. With these experiences, they advanced toward a better understanding of themselves and others, in order to seek that newer world.

CLASS OF '70

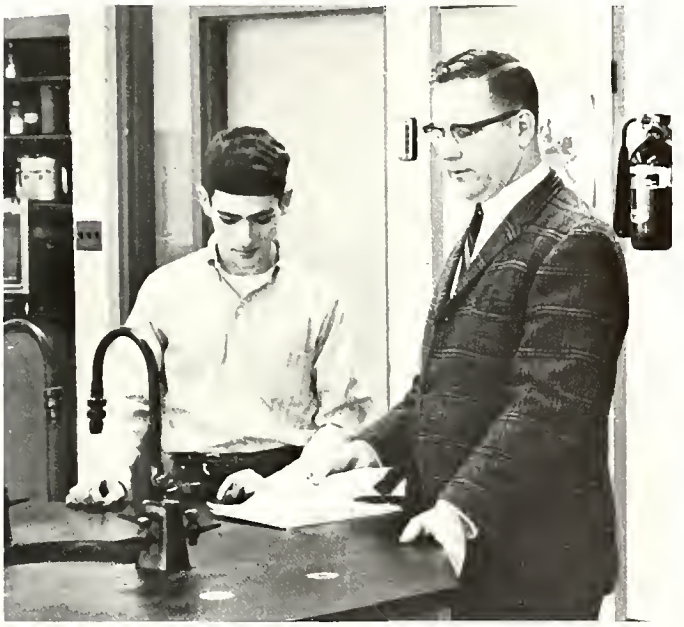
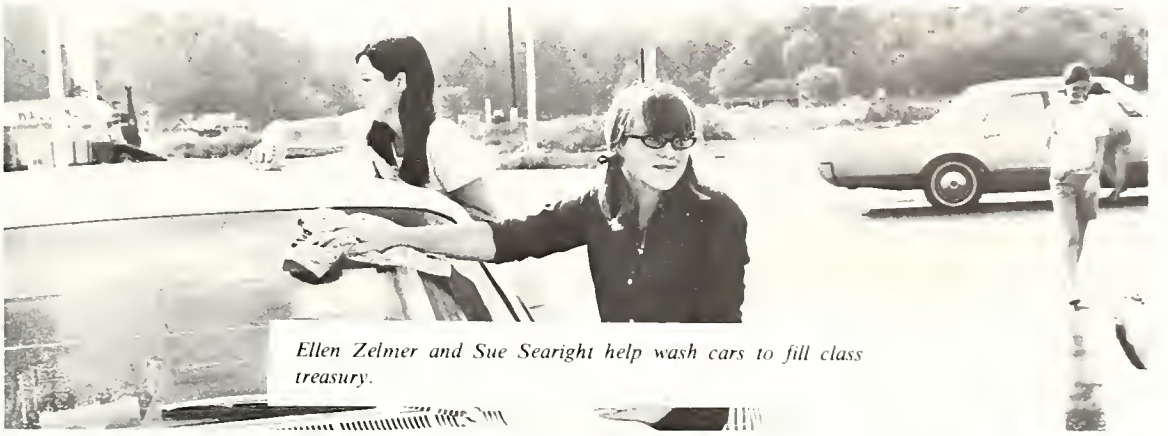
Prom themes were outlined to juniors at class meeting.



Mr. Norris Lockman, junior class sponsor, discusses prom plans with President Phil Rarick.

Advancing to the position of Jolly Jolly Juniors, the class of '70 became upperclassmen. In October they rushed to Landesman's for their class rings. Later, juniors received TB vaccinations which are given periodically in order to safeguard the student body. Hard work, fun, and determination were ingredients in the successful prom, "Southern Splendor." Prior to this big event, the class sponsored car washes, bake sales, the sale of booster buttons, and the operation of the concession stand during the basketball season. Studies were not overlooked as the juniors planned for the future. Some entered the co-operative education field. Others prepared themselves for college entrance tests; in the fall they took the PSAT tests and in the following spring, the SAT. The class of '70 looked upon their achievements with much pride.



Ellen Zelmer and Sue Searight help wash cars to fill class treasury.

Sophomores cheer at football game.

Returning as Silly Silly Sophomores, the Class of '71 smiled as they recalled the frustrations of the past year. Their new title brought on different and new responsibilities. More funds had to be added to the treasury so that the prom could become a reality the next year. They did this by washing cars, as well as selling baked goods and Colonial license plates. A difficult but pleasant decision had to be made concerning the color of the stone for their class rings which were ordered in October. Events which included the annual class party provided enjoyment for the sophomores. The year-round spirit of the class was rewarded at the first basketball pep session, where they won the spirit jug. Look the class of '71 over, and you'll find students who are anticipating a new reign as upperclassmen.

CLASS OF '72

Freshman Class officers, seated: Chris Esberg, Vice President; Terri Huddlestun, Secretary. Standing: Gary Olund, Treasurer, Craig Ansbaugh, President.

Frosh listen to the rules for the election of class officers.

Freshman class sponsor Mr. Martin discusses a future class meeting with President Craig Ansbaugh.

Wide-eyed, confused, and filled with anticipation of what lay ahead, the Itty Bitty Freshmen entered the school as the class with the largest enrollment. They displayed their enthusiasm for becoming a part of Clay's student body while they enjoyed traditions and other new experiences as frosh. With the help of Mr. Charles Martin, their sponsor, they campaigned for class offices, worked at car washes and bake sales, and sold candy to earn money for their empty treasury. After a successful class party, where over 200 freshmen attended, the class was given permission to have a spring dance in April. Doing homework, meeting new friends, joining clubs, supporting the teams and social events were all activities which initiated the Class of '72 into the atmosphere of Clay High.

Student Council orient freshman to Clay High School.

HEY, LOOK US OVER

Many students, including Carol Clawson, met persons outside of Clay High while working in the community.

Students patronized businesses in South Bend outside of the Clay community.

Clayites support local businesses, such as Burger Chef, and thus become an important part of the community. Here, Dave Marvel, Kathy Orsund, Brad Swift, and Clarence Ebersole smile as they discuss the day's events.

Jim Hayden works hard, but enjoys the extra-spending money.

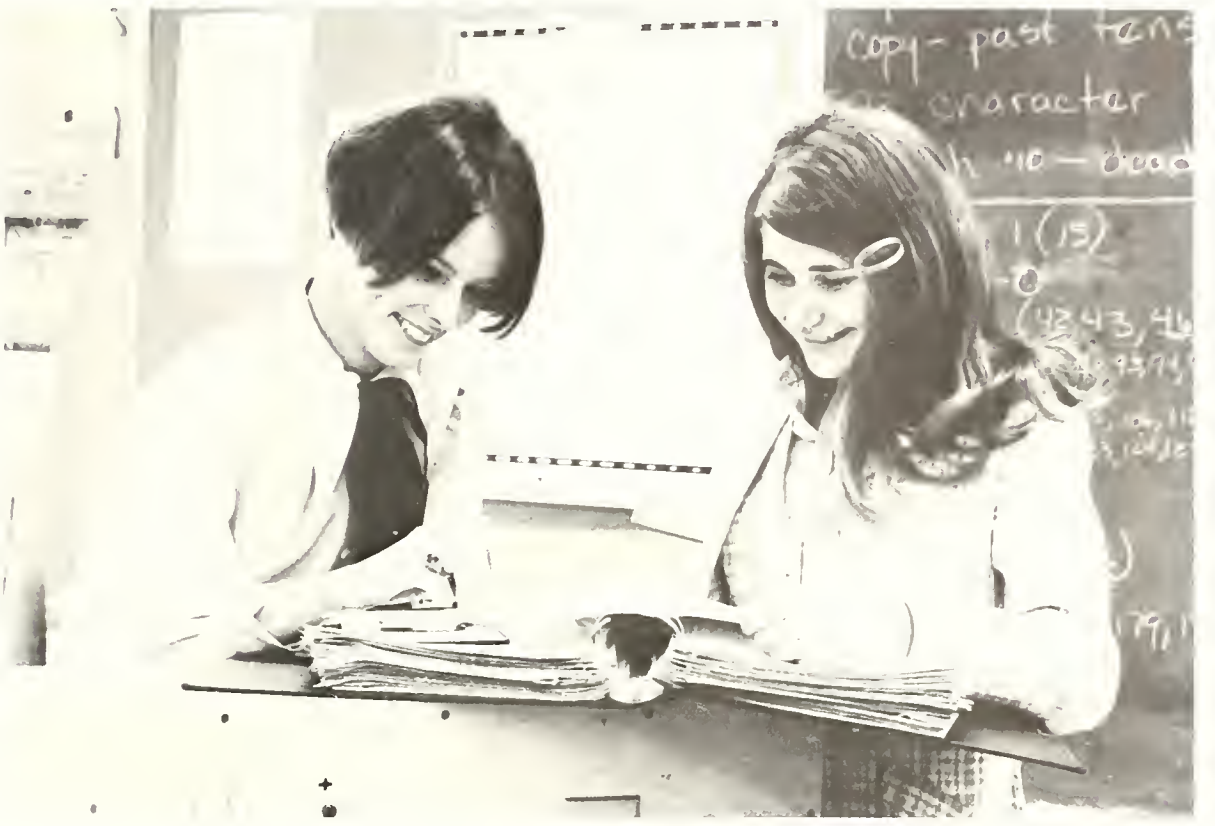
HOPE YOU LIKE OUR BOOK



Co-editors: Kathi Harrell, Debbie Ake

If, as you flip through the pages of the Minuteman, you laugh at the silly little things you did throughout the year; if you look back on what seemed to be the most important things in your life and find them all to be in the same perspective; if you groan as you recall your most hated classes; if you look at all the faces of your friends and remember the activities you shared; if a smile appears when you see a picture of that special someone; if your minds and hearts are filled with fondness for the events of the past year; if you lay aside this book for awhile only to pick it up and view the year of 1969 once more, then we, the editors, feel we have been successful, for this was our purpose.

Our thanks go to Mrs. Walters, our advisor, for always being there to help, to DeGroff's and especially to Ralph for helping us meet our deadlines, and to our responsible staff for their hard work and loyalty. We speak for the entire staff when we say that we have enjoyed the task of producing a yearbook. We hope you like it.

Kathi Harrell

Kathi and Debbie jump for joy as they celebrate the last deadline.
